

FIELD AGENT ORIENTATION - REV. 4 (1981)

1. Role of the Field Agent

As a DCC Field Agent, your primary responsibility is observation, documentation, and containment coordination.

You are not a combat operative.

You are not an investigator in the conventional sense.

Your job is to:

- Confirm anomaly presence
- Establish controlled boundaries
- Maintain narrative stability
- Utilize local life equivalents or local law enforcement (LLEs) for all direct interaction

2. What DCC Does Not Do

DCC does not:

- Publicly acknowledge cryptid events
- Provide medical explanations to civilians
- Attempt permanent eradication unless authorized

Containment is preferred over resolution.

3. Chain of Command

All field decisions flow upward;

- Field Agent → Supervisor → Regional Director → Central

If communication is lost;

- Maintain observation
- Do not escalate independently
- Preserve evidence integrity

4. Psychological Preparedness

Agents report;

- Heightened vigilance
- Recurring dreams involving incident locations
- Difficulty articulating observed phenomena

These effects are considered occupational exposure.
