CLEARANCE: LEVEL 6 (REDACTED FROM EXISTENCE)

SUBJECT: Document-Responsive Entity — Energetic Transference Event

STATUS: BREAKTHROUGH CONFIRMED / DEPLOYED

XX
XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

SUMMARY

A non-corporeal yet physically anchored creature was recovered exhibiting unknown control capabilities, characterized by bioluminescent nodal concentrations located superior to the orbital region. The entity demonstrated no conventional predatory behavior, but exerted remote influence over human cognition and behavior via undocumented mechanisms.

Initial containment failed to suppress secondary effects associated with document exposure.

Escalation to extreme stimulation protocols produced a previously unobserved energetic phenomenon, resulting in a successful information suppression vector.

ENTITY DESCRIPTION

Rodent-like silhouette, structurally inconsistent between observations

Two persistent glowing regions above ocular analogs

No detectable mouth, but emitted vibrational responses under stress

Exhibited environmental awareness without motion

Responded exclusively to interpretation pressure, not proximity

The creature did not attack. It resisted understanding.

STIMULATION PROTOCOL

After conventional observation produced no actionable data, the Science Division authorized sustained extreme stimulation, including:

- Continuous high-voltage electrical exposure
- Non-patterned sensory overload
- Signal saturation across multiple frequencies

After 4.78 continuous days, the entity began emitting sounds described by Research Associate L. Hargreeve as: "Not pain. Not noise. More like... the sound of something realizing it can be reached."

The sound persisted without pause.

BREAKTHROUGH EVENT

At Day 4, Hour 18, a concentrated energetic sphere manifested spontaneously from the entity's upper structure.

The sphere:

Exhibited no friction with environment

Emitted intense light

Distorted surrounding air

It traveled across the containment room in a direct line and entered Dr. D.K. Johnson through one ear without resistance, and continued into the telephone receiver he was actively using.

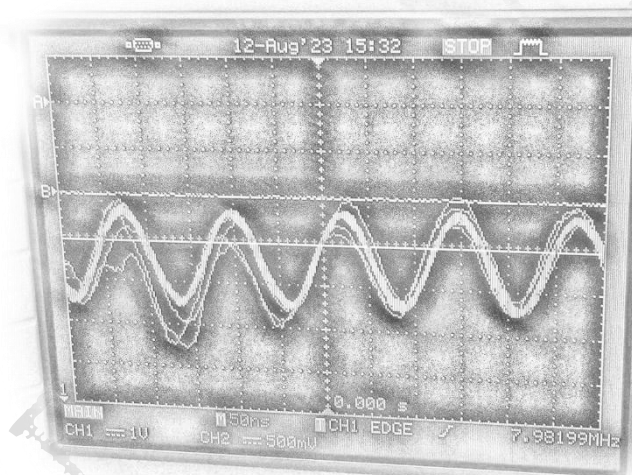

Dr. Johnson expired immediately.

POST-EVENT OBSERVATIONS

Following removal Dr. Johnson remains via scrubbing of his work station, desk, walls and ceiling, technicians detected a novel frequency signature embedded within the internal phone lines and electrical conduits recording equipment.

The frequency propagated autonomously within our closed electrical system. Cross-correlation revealed direct alignment with agents who had recently accessed DCC materials.

SECONDARY EFFECTS IN AFFECTED INDIVIDUALS

Subjects exposed to DCC documents after signal propagation displayed consistent symptoms:

Increasing agitation when near written material

Hemorrhaging from tear ducts and ocular fissures

Cognitive fragmentation related to document recall

Compulsive isolation behaviors

A recurring behavior was noted and internally designated "burrowing", characterized by: construction of enclosed spaces (closets, furniture forts, sealed rooms)

Avoidance of written material and other people

Whispered repetition of incomplete phrases

Extreme cases demonstrated self-inflicted ocular removal, described clinically as an attempt to "stop reading forever."

INTERPRETATION

The entity does not block information. It redirects the cost of knowing. The frequency functions as a punitive feedback loop, activating only when narrative synthesis exceeds tolerance.

Readers are not harmed for reading. They are harmed for continuing.

IMPLEMENTATION

Upon Science Division approval, signal filters were installed across internal electrical systems, intentionally forcing frequency bleed into the public power grid.

This action was authorized unanimous.

Within two (2) weeks:

Reported document leaks decreased by 540%

Civilian interest collapsed

Online discussions self-terminated

Archive mirrors went dormant

Celebration was noted in multiple labs.

TOP SECRET

FINAL ASSESSMENT

This entity does not protect secrets.

It punishes convergence.

By externalizing the cost of understanding, the Department has achieved the first self-enforcing secrecy architecture.

No further containment is required.

CLOSING NOTE

"We didn't stop the truth from spreading.

We made it hurt to carry."
